Second hand uniform is an important consideration for CEW in terms of affordability and environmental sustainability.

The CEW Student Uniform Shop (the shop) will receive and sell second hand uniforms on a consignment basis subject to the terms and conditions below.

Acceptance of Second Hand Uniform on Consignment

All items must be dry-cleaned or laundered before the shop will accept them. The shop staff must check that there are no tears or stains and that all zips work correctly.

The CEW Student Uniform Shop will only accept and sell current school items (no old stock).

Second hand uniform items will be available on display in the shop for customers to inspect.

All garments will be issued a receipt with the following information:

- Customer's name
- Email
- Address and
- Phone number (preferably mobile just in case they move house)
- Itemised listing of each uniform piece with a description and the second hand selling price.

Sale of Second Hand Uniform

The sale price of each second hand uniform item will be the second hand selling price, refer to Second Hand Price List attached.

A Handling Fee of 30% will apply.

Upon sale of a second hand uniform item, shop staff will record the sale electronically and contact the customer by email to confirm.

Staff will issue store credits for all second hand uniform sales at the end of each month. Store credits will be recorded electronically and available for use when the customer next visits the CEW Uniform Shop.

Unsold Items

Second hand uniforms items that remain unsold after 12 months will be assessed for suitability and either:

- Returned to the customer,

- Donated to a CEW school of the customer's choice,
- or if considered current and in good repair, retained in the second hand uniform inventory for a further term.

Donated Items

Each CEW school will gladly accept donated items of second hand uniform for their emergency supply and welfare donations.

Donated garments will be assessed by school staff for cleanliness and suitability. These garments will be held at the school and distributed at the discretion of the Principal.
